

Social Distancing

By Heather Androsoff

Social Stories 4 Kids

www.socialstories4kids.com

PCS and Boardmaker are trademarks of Tobii Dynavox LLC. All rights reserved. Used with permission.

It feels good to be
with my family and
my friends.

We like to do things
together.

I like to see my
teachers and my classmates at school.

We talk and play
together.

Right now, I need to
stay away from
others.

A virus is making
people sick in
places around the world.

It is a new virus.

It will take doctors
and researchers
time to learn about
the virus.

When they know more, they can find ways to fight the virus.

The virus is contagious, which means that people can catch it from each other.

The virus affects people differently.

The virus can be especially dangerous for some people.

Health professionals
and world leaders
want people to
participate in social distancing.

Social distancing
means staying
away from others
as much as
possible.

Social distancing
means avoiding
busy places.

Social distancing
means it is not a
good time for
travel.

Social distancing means giving others space, and not getting too close.

Social distancing
means taking a
break from group
activities.

Social distancing
means staying at
home as much as
possible.

Everyone needs to
do their part to
keep people safe
and healthy.

While we are social distancing, we can spend time with our families at home.

We can work at home.

We can read at
home.

We can play at home.

We can exercise at home.

We can practice at home.

We can help at home.

We can relax at home.

We can connect
with others using
technology.

We can practice healthy habits.

When we need fresh air, we can open the windows.

We can go outside,
but we need to
practice social
distancing.

Social distancing
can be frustrating
for everyone.

We need to be patient during
social distancing.

We need to stay
positive.

Social distancing is
an important
strategy to keep
everyone safe and
healthy.

When the time for social distancing is over, everyone will be excited to see each other again!

